

Tornedale Infant School's British Values Statement

The Rule of Law

We have a clearly structured behaviour policy which all stakeholders understand and follow.

Pupils are involved in making decisions about their Class rules which feeds into their rewards and sanctions.

Collective worships are planned and delivered with a focus on school rules and responsibilities.

Individual liberty

Pupils at Tornedale are encouraged to be good to become good citizens who can contribute positively to their community.

In circle time, we teach respect and the rights and responsibilities of being a member of our society.

During Anti-bullying week, we teach pupils to accept responsibility for poor choices in their attitude to learning the difference between right and wrong.

Self-esteem and self-respect is nurtured at every opportunity so that our pupils develop their independence and their inner voice. This gives them confidence to say NO when appropriate.

Tolerance of those with different faiths and beliefs

Our school celebrates diversity and sees it as strength.

Our curriculum provides a broad and balanced education on a range of faiths, religions and cultures.

We ensure that diversity and tolerance is modelled through an appreciation of different traditions and celebrations in our lessons and collective services.

Democracy

At Tornedale, we encourage pupils to use the pupil voice to share ideas and concerns and be involved in decisions that affect the whole school.
